Cameron cancels Middle East trip to tackle English flood crisis

London.—Prime Minister David Cameron said yesterday he had cancelled a planned visit to Israel next week to deal with a flooding crisis in England which has left parts of England under water for weeks.

“I’m cancelling my visit to the Middle East next week,” Cameron told a news conference yesterday afternoon.

“I’m sending my apologies today to (Israeli) Prime Minister (Benjamin) Netanyahu and (Palestinian) President (Mahmoud) Abbas, but nothing is more important than dealing with these floods.”
