

FULL LOCAL WHAT'S ON GUIDE TO EVENTS: SEE INSIDE

Pupils visit our print press

Majorca Daily Bulletin

Wednesday, February 15 2017

1.10€ · Founded 1962 · N.16202 · Passeig de Mallorca 9 A,
Palma 07011

Pupils from the IES Porto Cristo school were given a tour of our print press yesterday in English by the Bulletin's Christina Buchet. Inside today our Junior Bulletin section.

PALMA “PAW PATROL”

● Palma police to launch a campaign to ensure that pets and their owners are not mis-behaving and their paperwork is in order.
See Page 6

British defence spending slips

● Britain's defence spending last year dipped just below the NATO military alliance's target of 2 percent of gross domestic product, the International Institute for Strategic Studies said yesterday.

The government disputed the figures, saying NATO's own data showed it had spent 2.21 percent of GDP on defence last year. Britain has previously met the commitment and during a visit to Washington last month prime minister Theresa May discussed the issue with U.S. president Donald Trump, who has repeatedly criticised members who do not spend enough on their militaries.

Echoing the rationale behind Trump's criticism, May then warned EU leaders at a summit earlier this month that they must raise their defence spending.

Cybercrime body launches private sector drive as Queen opens new HQ: See Inside

Sold to the Capuccino Group as it continues with expansion plan.

Emblematic Palma building sold to top firm

Palma.—The Capuccino Group has purchased the “La Protectora” building off Palma’s Jaime III as it continues its major expansion plan.

The Palma-based Group, famous for its up-market cafeterias and restaurants, is also building a new luxury hotel in the Plaza Cort in Palma which will open this summer.

Earlier last year Capuccino took over Wellies in Puerto Portals. The purchase of the “La Protectora” building will be welcomed because it has been abandoned for a number of years. It once housed squash courts and a restaurant. Recently, the area around “La Protectora” has enjoyed an important revival welcoming a large number of new businesses.