

Majorca Daily Bulletin

Wednesday, June 14 2017

1.10€ · Founded 1962 · N.16303 · Passeig de Mallorca 9 A, Palma 07011

Ronaldo accused of 15 mln euro tax fraud by Spanish prosecutor: See Inside

Calvia Mayor demands more police this summer: Inside

RED ALERT

Palma.—The first big heat wave of the year hit Majorca yesterday sending temperatures soaring ...and we are all set for a repeat performance today. The Palma Met Office forecast that temperatures would easily pass the 36 degree Centigrade mark. The Gas and Electricity Board reported a surge in demand for electricity as homes and offices switched on their air conditioning. The Palma Met Office warned that the high temperatures could be very dangerous for the very young and elderly.

“Woman tried to snatch my daughter,” British mum tells local police: Page 3

Majorca home owner is new minister at the Foreign Office

Palma.—Mark Field, the British Member of Parliament for the City of London who owns a house on the island, was promoted yesterday to minister and will now join the Foreign Office where he will serve under Boris Johnson. Field is a former deputy chairman of the Conservative Party. He retained his seat in Thursday's general election but with a much reduced majority.

Field has homes in London and on the outskirts of Palma. It was unclear yesterday what his exact role at the Foreign Office would be.