AN ENTERPRISING SHIP

JOIN the Royal Navy and see the world, was an old promotional campaign for the British Navy but this is certainly the case with HMS Enterprise which is docked in Palma and is a flagship of a NATO minesweeping force. Enterprise is quite literally always away from home! The ship is operationally available 330 days a year. Her service record makes long reading! In 2007 Enterprise deployed for 19 months to West Africa, South Africa, the Indian Ocean and the Persian Gulf. While in the Persian Gulf she worked off the coast of Iraq in support of the UK and Iraqi governments.

On 10 June 2011, Enterprise returned to Devonport, having covered over 50,000 miles during the deployment. Her latest deployment is still ongoing having sailed from Plymouth last year. Enterprise has a crew of 50 men and women and obviously they are looking forward to discovering the delights of Majorca. Then the Enterprise will boldly go on her way again!

THE ROYAL WEDDING COUNTDOWN IS UNDERWAY

Prince Harry weds American actress Meghan Markle next Saturday in a union of youthful royalty and Hollywood glamour expected to reinvigorate the venerable House of Windsor.

Harry, grandson of Queen Elizabeth and sixth-in-line to the throne, and Markle, star of U.S. TV drama Suits will tie the knot next Saturday at Windsor Castle, home to the British royal family for nearly 1,000 years. With celebrities expected to join the queen and senior royals for the ceremony and reception, thousands of journalists from across the globe will descend on the picturesque town of Windsor.

"It's absolutely marvellous. It's going to be a very special day for everybody," Harry's father Prince Charles said during a visit to France this week.

Harry, 33, a former army officer and one-time royal wild child, met his bride-to-be on a blind date in July 2016 after being set up through a mutual friend. Markle, 36, said she knew little about her royal date while Harry said he had never heard of Markle or watched her TV series.

However, it was love at first sight, and after just two dates, he whisked her off to Botswana for an intimate holiday, camping under the stars.

"The fact that I fell in love with Meghan so incredibly quickly was confirmation to me that all the stars were aligned, everything was just perfect," Harry said in an interview to mark the engagement last November. "This beautiful woman just tripped and fell into my life, I fell into her life." Saturday's wedding will take place at St George's Chapel of Windsor Castle, the queen's home west of London and the oldest and largest inhabited fortress in the world.
