

Majorca Daily Bulletin

Friday, February 28 2020

1.20€ · Founded 1962 · N.17164 · Passeig de Mallorca 9 A,
Palma 07011

Pollensa council officials left red faced over “erotic show...”

Pollensa.—Pollensa council officials have been left red faced after contracting an erotic show by error for the Puerto Pollensa carnival celebrations. Embarrassed officials said yesterday that they had recruited a DJ and an entertainment package for the big carnival celebrations without realising that it included a show which some would call risqué! “We wish to apologise for the error, it was a mistake,” said a council spokesperson. Full Report in tomorrow's Northern Spotlight.

LOCAL FARMERS FEAR BREXIT

- Majorcan farmers seek help over potato crops and are calling for action from the central administration over Brexit.
- “We rely on the British market and the close relationship we’ve had for almost a century has supported us during very critical times”.
- See Inside.

Britons start leaving four-star lockdown hotel in Tenerife

- None of the remaining 700-plus guests at a hotel in the Canary Islands on lockdown over the coronavirus have shown any symptoms of the virus and 130 of them, including Britons, have been cleared to leave, the regional government said. Page 19

It's a dog's life...how about yoga with your pet: See Full Report Inside