Cruising to the Balearics

● International cruises to restart from June 7.

Spain's merchant marine directorate has authorised the use of ports in the Balearics and the rest of Spain by international cruise ships. This authorisation will take effect from June 7, and the decision has been prompted by Covid protocols adopted by the country's regions as well as by low levels of infections and the protocols followed by cruise operators. There haven't been cruise ships mean an increase in numbers of passengers passing through the airport and in hotel occupancy. This latest authorisation follows a previous one to allow cruises using only national ports.
