Follow all breaking news stories online at: www.majorcadailybulletin.es

Spain has no plans to buy U.S. F35 fighters, defence ministry says Madrid.— Spain has no plans to buy F35 fighter planes from the United States. However, Spain said it fighter planes from the United States and remains committed to the European FCAS fighter planes from the United States. However, Spain said it fully committed to the Franco-Germ Spanish FCAS fighter planes fighter planes from the United States and remains committed to the European FCAS fighter planes from the United States and remains committed to the European FCAS fighter planes from the United States and remains committed to the European FCAS fighter planes from the United States and remains committed to the European FCAS fighter planes from the United States and remains committed to the European FCAS fighter planes from the United States and remains committed to the European FCAS fighter planes from the United States and remains committed to the European FCAS fighter planes from the United States and remains committed to the European FCAS fighter planes from the United States and remains committed to the European FCAS fighter planes from the United States and remains committed to the European FCAS fighter planes from the United States and remains committed to the European FCAS fighter planes from the United States and remains committed to the European FCAS fighter planes from the United States and remains committed to the European FCAS fighter planes from the United States and remains committed to the European FCAS fighter planes from the United States and remains committed to the European FCAS fighter planes from the United States and remains committed to the European FCAS fighter planes from the United States and remains committed to the European FCAS fighter planes from the United States and remains committed to the European FCAS

Thursday, November 11 2021

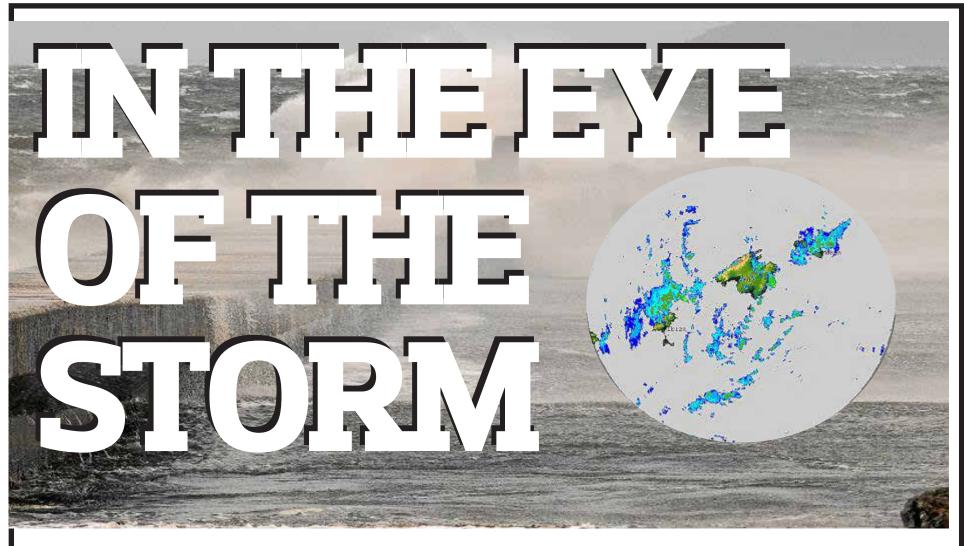

1.20€ · Founded 1962 · N.17148 · Passeig de Mallorca 9 A, Palma 07011

Spain has no plans to buy spokeswoman said yesterday. A report on Nov. 4 in the French business magazine Challenges, citing an analyst at the defence specialist magazine Jane's, suggested Spain may be interested in buying the F35 fighter from the United States. However, Spain said it was fully committed to the Franco-German-

"The Spanish government has no budget to enter into any other jet project in addition to the one that is already in place. We rule out entering the F35 project. Our investment commitment is in the FCAS," the defence ministry spokeswoman told Reuters.

orrential rain and thunderstorms caused a river in Fornalutx to burst its banks on Tuesday night, sending gallons of water cascading through the village and flooding homes and businesses, according to Mayor Francisco

Storms usually blow out within 1-3 days, but Aemet Deputy Spokesperson, Bernat Amengual says Majorca will be feeling the effects of Storm

'Blas' for at least a week. A yellow alert is in force at least until noon for winds gusting up to 80 kilometres an hour and heavy rains, except in the south of the Island. 20 litres of rainwater per m2 is expected to fall within one hour and up to 60 litres in 12 hours. The coastal phenomena alert for has been lowered to yellow, but 3-4 metre high waves are forecast in the Serra de Tramuntana and the north and east of the Island.

No plans to increase capacity at Palma airport: See Inside

Action blocked

London.—UK Supreme Court has blocked a planned 3.2 billion pound ($4.3 billion) British class action against Google over allegations the internet giant unlawfully tracked the personal information of millions of ipnone users. Britain's top judges unanimously granted a Google appeal against the country's first such data privacy case a move that upsets a string of similar claims.