MALLORCA HOME OWNER LOOKING TO BUY MAN UTD

ONE of Britain's richest men and Mallorca home owner, Sir Jim Ratcliffe, has made a fresh bid for Manchester United football club.

Ratcliffe's company INEOS has formally entered the bidding process to buy the club, a spokesperson for the chemical firm has said. The Glazer family, United's US owners, said in November they had begun looking at options for the 20-times English champions, including new investment or a potential sale, 17 years after they bought the Old Trafford club. In August, British billionaire Ratcliffe, a long-time fan of the club, expressed interest in buying United.

"I can confirm that we have formally put ourselves into the process," an INEOS spokesperson said in a statement.
