Spanish government set to give green light to driving licence deal with Britain “very soon”

Madrid—The British Embassy in Madrid said yesterday that they expect the Spanish government to give the green light on the exchange of British driving licences for Spanish ones “very soon”.

In a statement on social media yesterday, the Embassy said that they were waiting for the deal to be rubber-stamped at the Spanish Council of Ministers meeting. The Spanish government do not give the agenda for what will be discussed at these meetings in advance but an announcement is expected very soon. The new deal will allow Britons to exchange their British licences for Spanish ones.

THE MALLORCA FILES IS BACK

● Filming is expected to take place across the island on the third series over the coming weeks. It will be screened on BBC1.

Palma.—The hit BBC1 detective series The Mallorca Files is back! Filming got under way yesterday morning in Palma on the third series, which is expected to be screened later this year. The Plaza Cort in the centre of Palma was transformed into a giant movie set. Filming is expected to take place across the island over the coming weeks with local production company

Palma Pictures heavily involved. The top BBC series enjoyed great success in the first two series, averaging two million viewers per episode. It also gives Mallorca some fantastic promotion on prime-time television. The series focuses on the Welsh Miranda Blake (Rhys), and German Max Winter (Looman) as they solve crimes on the island. Cosmopolitan Pictures founder Ben

Donald said the series came from “a desire to create a feel-good action-driven cop show like the ones I grew up with and, secondly, a desire to re-brand and refresh the Anglo-German relationship on television”. Filming on the second series was interrupted due to the COVID-19 pandemic. Only six of the planned ten episodes were produced.
