UP IN SMOKE

Palma.—It could be last orders for smoking on bar and restaurant terraces in Spain as the Spanish government has approved a bill which outlaws tobacco in many new areas. It could be the end of the line for many smokers.

Until now, bar and restaurant terraces had been a “haven” for smokers after it was banned in the interior some years ago. All this could change as the government looks set to close the final loophole. The announcement comes as the government has increased the price of many popular cigarette brands by 25 cents a packet. The new prices came into force over the weekend with popular makes now costing 6.25 euros. Smoking will also be prohibited in public swimming pools, bus shelters, stations, playgrounds and even university campuses. There will be a 15-metre zone around hospitals, schools and social centres where smoking will also be prohibited. Concerts, outdoor shows and popular festivals are also added to the list.
